

CU ★ PRESENTS
2023-24 Season

Theatre & Dance
UNIVERSITY OF COLORADO BOULDER

NEED TO KNOW FOR THE SHOW

- Refrain from using electronic devices during the performance. Feel free to view this program on your device at any time prior to the performance, during intermission or after the performance ends.
- Photography and video recordings of any type are strictly prohibited during the performance.
- Smoking is not permitted anywhere. CU Boulder is a smoke-free campus.

CU ★ PRESENTS is the home of performing arts at the University of Colorado Boulder.

Remarkable performances are the heart of CU Boulder
Theatre & Dance.

CU Boulder acknowledges that it is located on the traditional territories and ancestral homelands of the Cheyenne, Arapaho, Ute and many other Native American nations. Their forced removal from these territories has caused devastating and lasting impacts.

About the Choreographer

Helanius J. Wilkins, Louisiana native and Colorado transplant, is a choreographer, performance artist and educator. Spanning nearly 70 works performed nationally and internationally, Wilkins' creative research is rooted in the interconnections of American contemporary performance, cultural history, and identities of Black men. Wilkins is currently working on his most ambitious work-to-date, The Conversation Series: Stitching the Geopolitical Quilt to Re-Body Belonging, a multi-outcome, multi-year art and social change work that confronts and celebrates heritage, resilience, justice and hope. He is the CU Boulder Dance program's Associate Chair and Director. helaniusj.com

About the Choreographer

Erika Randall is a dancer, teacher, choreographer, filmmaker and presently the associate dean for student success for the College of Arts & Sciences. As a performer, she has worked with Megan Odom, Teena Marie Custer, Sydney Skybetter, Michelle Ellsworth, the Mark Morris Dance Group and Buglisi/Foreman Dance. Her choreography has been seen in four countries and 16 states over the last 10 years and her internationally award-winning screendance works, including: Paula + Francesca, Down for the Count, less, more and self defense, have screened at festivals such as the Beirut International Women Film Festival, the Beyond the Curve International Film Festival in Paris, France, the Starz Denver Film Festival, the Florence Queer Festival in Italy and the Façade Film Festival in Plovdiv, Bulgaria. Randall co-wrote, directed and choreographed the feature-length dance film Leading Ladies (2010) which played to sold-out audiences at more than 65 festivals worldwide. Randall has served as the choreographer/movement director for the Colorado Shakespeare Festival (2017-23). Her podcast, The Ampersand, created with producer Tim Grassley, celebrates the alchemy of ANDing and can be found wherever you listen to podcasts.

Special Thanks

When my mother was dying, she said, “No flowers. When you think of me: Love, Laugh, Dance.” This piece is a playful queering of the Waltz of the Flowers and The Sonnambula, and a gift to her, whom I miss every day.

About the Choreographer

Larry Southall holds an MFA in performance and choreography from the University of Colorado. A native of the Bronx, he began working with hip-hop dance forms in the early 1980's. He has worked with the Boulder Ballet, The Harambee African Dance Ensemble, Blue Moon Dance Company, Motion Underground, Longmont Symphony and Dance Theatre, Cleo Parker Robinson Summer Institute, Denver School of the Arts and Steamboat Springs Dance Theatre. He has served as a master teacher at Dance Place in Washington, D.C., at Slippery Rock University and for the American College Dance Festival. Southall has choreographed for the Native Tongue Dance Theatre, Skeleton Dance Project, The Black College Dance Exchange and the Legacies concert of the American College Dance Festival in Boulder, and is respected nationally as one of the great traditional hip-hop teachers. Southall is currently rehearsal director of The Grass Roots Project under the direction of Rennie Harris and co-creator of the hip-hop studies certificate along with Rennie Harris at CU Boulder through the Department of Theatre & Dance.

About the Choreographer

André M. Zachery is a Brooklyn-based interdisciplinary artist of Haitian and African American descent and is a scholar, researcher and technologist with a BFA from Ailey/Fordham University and an MFA in performance and interactive media arts from CUNY/Brooklyn College. As the artistic director of Renegade Performance Group his practice, research and community engagement artistically focused on merging choreography, technology and Black cultural practices through multimedia work. Zachery is a 2016 New York Foundation for the Arts Gregory Millard Fellow in Choreography and a 2019 Jerome Hill Foundation Fellow in Choreography.

His works through RPG have been presented domestically and internationally, receiving support through several residencies, awards and commissions. These have included the LMCC Arts Center on Governors Island, Dance/ NYC Coronavirus Relief Fund, CUNY Dance Initiative, Performance Project Residency at University Settlement, ChoreoQuest Residency at Restoration Arts Brooklyn, 3LD Art & Technology Center, HarvestWorks and a Jerome-supported Movement Research AIR. Awarded grants have been from the Brooklyn Arts Council, Harlem Stage Fund for New Work and a Slate Property SPACE Award. Commissions have come from the Brooklyn Museum, Five Myles/BRIC Biennial and Danspace Project.

RPG has earned mentions and favorable reviews from publications such as The New York Times, The New Yorker, The Village Voice, Culturebot, Infinite Blogspot, Futuristically Ancient, Hyperallergic, the Brooklyn Rail, the Daily News and AFROPUNK. As a technologist, Zachery has collaborated with various artists through RPG, the design team of 3LD Art & Technology Center and The Clever Agency on design installations, immersive media productions, film productions, film editing, projection mapping and performance collaborations.

Zachery has worked on significant projects across artistic mediums as a choreographer, media designer and consultant with artists such as Daniel Bernard Roumain, Cynthia Hopkins, Davalois Fearon, Dance Caribbean COLLECTIVE, Arin Maya, Rags & Ribbons, The Clever Agency, Kendra Foster, Manhattan School of Music, Burwell & Sasser and Spike Lee.

Zachery is an assistant arts professor at the Tisch School of the Arts in the Dance Department at NYU. As a scholar, he has been a member of panels, led group talks, facilitated discussions and presented research on a myriad of topics including Afrofuturism, African Diaspora practices and philosophies, Black cultural aesthetics, technology in art and performance, and expanding the boundaries of art making within the community. He has been a panelist and presented his research at institutions such as Duke University, Brooklyn College, University of Virginia, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and the University of Colorado Boulder. He is an advisory board member of the ATLAS Institute at the University of Colorado Boulder. Zachery has taught at Brooklyn College and been a guest faculty member at the dance programs of Florida State University, Virginia Commonwealth University, The Ohio State University, the University of California Los Angeles, and the University of California Riverside.

Piece Concept

The piece is a dance of dedication to the self we will become. Standing on the Wheels of Time can be interpreted within the framework of Afrofuturism as acknowledging the interconnectedness of our respective pasts, our collective present, and our interdependent future. Across many Africanist philosophies, time is not viewed as linear but rather as a cyclical or spiraling dimension, with the past, present, and future constantly influencing and informing each other to shape who we are yet to be.

Program Notes

As a creator, I want to first acknowledge that my work is built from my participation in a community of thinkers, fellow artists, elders, children, family, friends and ancestors. Because of them, I am.

Thank you to my brother, friend, and collaborator LaMont Hamilton for joining me in this creative process and in Boulder as sound composer where we were able to share space and reconnect on so many levels that helped construct this piece for the better. Thank you the entire performing cast—a cohort of bright, inquisitive, courageous and talented individuals who each have the capability to make positive impacts on the world. Thank you to Jessica Bertram, for taking on the responsibility of rehearsal director and taking this work across the line. Thank you Kate Bashore and Markas Henry for being wonderful creative partners as lighting designer and costume designer respectively.

Thank you CU Boulder professors Helanius Wilkins and anya cloud for the invitation and arrangement for me come out as the Roser Guest Artist. Thank you to Ondine Geary for working with us at ATLAS/BBX. Thank you to all the professors, instructors and students who welcomed us and shared time with us.

About the Choreographer

Constance, also known as Connie Love in nightlife circles, is a versatile dance artist with expertise in teaching, performing and choreographing. Her energetic movement style draws from Africanist aesthetics, fusing traditional and contemporary African dance, hip-hop, and house. Holding a Bachelor of Arts in cultural anthropology from Dickinson College and a Master of Fine Arts in dance from the University of Colorado Boulder, Harris brings a rich academic background to her artistry. Renowned for her electrifying performances, she has graced the stages of premier nightclubs and parties nationwide, including The Trestle Inn in Philadelphia, Mile High Soul Club in Denver, Scatta Afrobeats in Denver and Owls Club in Tucson. Harris' talents extend to the festival circuit, where she has showcased her skills at renowned fusion dance events like Migrations in Austin and Jamballah in Portland, sharing her expertise in popular Afrobeats social dances and freestyle. She is currently a guest choreographer for the Department of Theatre & Dance at the University of Colorado Boulder.

Improvisational Text

J. Akiyama & Chrissy Nelson

About the Choreographers

J. Akiyama is an improvisational artist and somatic psychotherapist based in the Boulder area.

Chrissy Nelson is a dance artist, somatics-based movement educator and physical therapist. She is a lecturer in dance at CU Boulder, facilitates the Department of Theater & Dance Wellness Program, and co-directs The Field | Boulder. Nelson’s creative research involves body-centric work that spans unplugged improvisational solos to large scale evening-length dance | theater | media work, including collaborative CU ATLAS residencies cLementines & cHocolate (2012) and The Pain of Becoming (2014), and her graduate thesis project, Skin & Pulp (2013). More recently, Nelson premiered in the backyard (2019) in The Current, and Loose Gravel (2023), an evening-length work presented at Luther College.

Cortney McGuire is a local improviser and loves hugs, great music and laughing. She has danced all over the spectrum of movement, but has found her true passion in improvisation.

Special Thanks

J. Akiyama & Chrissy Nelson have been in process together since 2010. J. Akiyama, Chrissy and Cortney last performed together in 2016, in Spring Vacation. We have tremendous amounts of gratitude for each other. And we appreciate you, the audience, for sharing in this dialogue with us.
